

Introduction:

This document outlines the architecture of our new cloud-based risk processing system.

Architecture Overview:

The system is composed of multiple microservices, each responsible for a single business capability.

It includes data ingestion, document parsing, risk assessment, and reporting components.

Communication Protocols:

All services communicate over REST/JSON and gRPC. Secure connections are enforced using HTTPS.